

SOCIETY and PERSONAL ACTIVITIES of WOMEN

Society

With the effective rendition of "Good Bye," by Mrs. Julia A. Rodé, accompanied by Mrs. James Cover, the Country club closed its season last evening with the Dinner Dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Hering for 155 guests, who were seated on the veranda in Groups of ten at carefully appointed tables, centered with baskets of pink and white flowers and lighted with pink tapers in crystal holders, each table being presided over by a hostess. Those assisting were Mrs. Thad Tietz, in a stunning gown of black tulle and peacock sequins; Mrs. H. W. Eidredge in a robe of black Chantilly lace; Mrs. George O'Brien in brown embroidered net; Mrs. Charles Lipinski in white embroidered georgette; Mrs. A. R. Erskine, who wore an effective model of geranium velvet combined with black Spanish lace; Mrs. George Robertson, in a simple gown of black relieved by a stripe of royal blue; Mrs. Victor Jones, in a black panne velvet combined with jet; Mrs. R. L. Sensenich, whose gown was of blue georgette; Mrs. Miles O'Brien, in a dainty pink gown with white embroidery; Mrs. Donald Edredge, in blue panne velvet; Mrs. John Chess Ellsworth, in brown, and Mrs. James Hanson in broad black chiffon. Mrs. Hering's gown was of black, headed in crystal. Following dinner the guests enjoyed the program of dances played by the Davis orchestra.

Another charming affair at the Country club yesterday was the luncheon for 50 guests given by Mrs. Morgan Kavash. The guests were seated at small tables being centered with an artistic basket of yellow pom pom chrysanthemums, while the color motif of yellow and white was carried out in all of the luncheon appointments.

Following the luncheon the guests spent the afternoon at bridge tables the favors being won by Mrs. W. C. McFarland, Jr., Mrs. Louis DeCamp, Mrs. E. J. Leut, and Mrs. B. C. Kenyon, of Mishawaka. Those with the high score at the respective tables received a basket of yellow pom pom chrysanthemums.

The hostess was graciously assisted by Mrs. George Thurn.

Clarence Manion of Notre Dame University, addressed the members of the Current History Department at the South Bend Women's club Wednesday afternoon at the club rooms. His subject was "Patriotism," after which Mrs. D. L. Guilfoyle read a paper on "Prominent Women in American History." Mrs. L. G. Bradford discussed "Club Work by Michigan Women," and a detailed report of the recent convention at Muncie, Ind., was given by Mrs. William Probasco. The chairman of the department, Mrs. P. E. Whitehall, presided.

The Grandmothers' Club met Wednesday afternoon at an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. B. C. Smith, 521 N. Scott street. A 12 o'clock dinner was served at a beautifully appointed table, the centerpiece being of autumn flowers. Covers were for 100 guests, and the afternoon was wholly to a business session. The next meeting of the club will be held Dec. 7, at the home of Mrs. Eliza Stover, Columbia st. The affair will be a dinner celebrating the 25th anniversary of the club, and honoring four living charter members, the oldest of which is 83 years of age. Mrs. B. C. Smith will give the history of the club.

Wednesday afternoon at 3:15, the members of the Franklin club held their business meeting. Afterward, Mrs. C. J. Morrison gave a talk on "Honey and How the Bees Work," and the 3-B school children sang several songs.

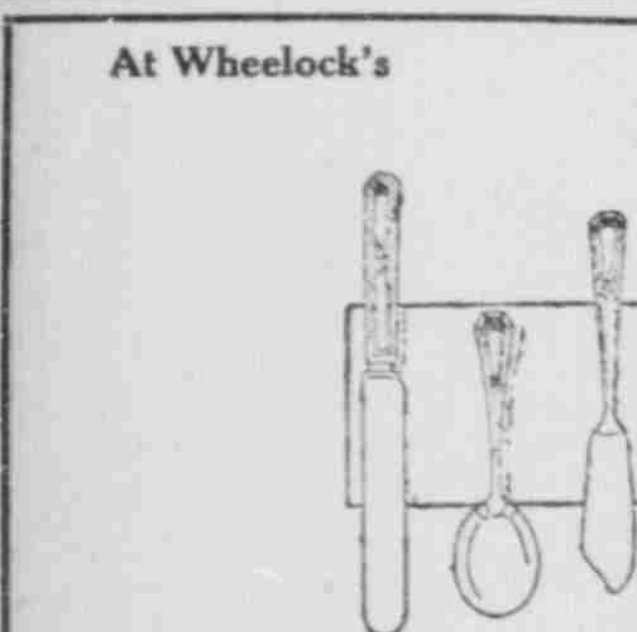

Twenty-five people hiked to Rose-lawn, where they were entertained at the home of Miss Florence Van Faria. Games and music were features of the evening. Light refreshments were served.

The St. Joseph county federation of clubs will hold its annual all day meeting Nov. 12, at the First Baptist church in this city. All clubs

DR. F. W. VAUGHN,
DENTIST
617 J. M. S. Bldg.
Practice Limited to Orthodontia
(Straightening Children's Teeth)

GLASSES
Properly
Fitted,
DR. J. BURKE
130 S. Michigan St.
Broken Lenses Duplicated.

At Wheelock's

The LaFrance Pattern—A new and unusually attractive table service made by Wm. Rogers & Son. The moderate prices on this beautiful pattern are a surprise.

Tea Spoons $1.75 set of six.
Dessert Spoons $3.25 set of six.
Table Spoons, $3.50 set of six.
Dessert Forks, $3.25 set of six.
Berry Spoons, $2.00 each.

Butter Spreaders, $4.25 set of six.
Individual Salad Forks, $4.75 set of six.
Breakfast Knives, $3.75 set of six.
Gravy Ladles, $1.50 each.
Cold Meat Forks $1.25 each

Ask to see this attractive pattern.

George H. Wheelock & Company

Champion Bread Bakers

READING FROM LEFT TO RIGHT: LEONA PETERSON, MYRA JONES AND EVELYN CUDDY.

MANKATO, Minn., Nov. 2.—They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy. Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

These three girls will represent the west in a contest to be held at Washington between the east and west.

They're real making champions these three Mankato girls; Leona Peterson, Myra Jones and Evelyn Cuddy.

Representing their school, the three girls first won the Blue Earth county championship and later took first prize in a southern Minnesota competition. Later they

took first prize at the Minnesota state fair.

Revelations of A Wife

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a young man of 26. I am engaged to a young lady about my age, but she doesn't like me for some reason that nobody knows. It's almost impossible for me to see her, and when I do it's on the sly.

Please advise me what to do. I love her dearly, and I'm going to marry her, regardless of her parents' wishes, but I don't like to do it. I'm having a lot of trouble about it. Nothing we do seems to help.

DOUBTFUL: It would be better not to marry your fiancée without her parents' consent, my friend. Isn't that what you want to do? Just why her family disapproves of you, and do all in your power to win their liking and respect? That would be the wisest thing to do, and you both will be happier if you do the right and proper thing.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl 19 years old. I am engaged to a man several years older than myself. I have been engaged to him for three years. I love him dearly. I don't think he loves me any more by the way he acts. When we are alone he treats me nicely, but when we are in the presence of my girl friends or a crowd he acts as though he is afraid the people will really think he cares for me. When he is away from me I know that he flirts with other girls, because they have told me so.

Will you please give me some advice as to the way I should treat him?

BLUE EYES: If you truly care for your fiancé you will continue to treat him just as you always have. You must be sure that he doesn't make a parade of his affection in public, my dear. Have more confidence in him and try to look on the sunny side of things, not the gloomy side. You were very young when you became engaged. When are you to be married? I hope not until every doubt has vanished from your heart, and every possible cause from his conduct.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am 18 years old, and am in love with a young man of 26. He calls me about three or four times a week, and takes me any place I want to go, except to parties. I suppose it's jealousy.

I wondered if it would be wise to mention changing friendship to see what he would say?

Please advise me how to get him to go to parties with me?

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.

If you are not engaged you should associate with other young persons and enjoy pleasant times with them. Perhaps when he sees you have other friends who are attentive to you he will "wake up" to the fact that you would enjoy going to a party occasionally, and invite you.

WORRIED: I believe you are devoting too much time to the young man, my dear. It would be advisable not to permit him to call so often.